Shared_resources

Return to Glossary

Shared Resources, also known as Network Resources, refer to computer data, information, or hardware devices that can be easily accessed from a remote computer through a Local Area Network (LAN) or enterprise Intranet. Successful shared resource access allows users to operate as if the shared resource were on their own computer. The most frequently used shared network environment objects are files, data, multimedia and hardware resources like printers, fax machines and scanners.

Source: https://www.techopedia.com/definition/24796/shared-resources

From:
https://www.omgwiki.org/dido/ - DIDO Wiki

Permanent link:
https://www.omgwiki.org/dido/doku.php?id=dido:public:ra:xapend:xapend.a_glossary:s:shared_resources&rev=1635791495

Last update: 2021/11/01 14:31