Company Overview	eProsima is a company focused on high-performance middleware. We help you design your distributed system covering all the areas impacting communications: The middleware technology to choose, the Data Model (DM), the Quality of Service (QoS) Policies for the different data flows, the data links, how to test the systems, etc. eProsima develops open source tools for Data Distribution Service (DDS), such as eProsima Remote Procedure Call (RPC) over DDS, and eProsima Non-Intrusive Recorder for DDS, compatible with the main DDS implementations. eProsima develops the main standalone open source implementation of Real-time Publish-Subscribe (RTPS), the underlying protocol of DDS.
Product Category	Distributed-Data
Product/Service Description	eProsima Fast RTPS is a new lightweight Open Source (Apache 2.0) implementation of the DDS protocol (RTPS, Real Time Publish Subscribe Protocol), allowing direct access to the protocol settings and features. It includes also a minimum DDS API, Interface Definition Language (IDL) support, and automatic code generation. It is available in many platforms (windows, linux, android, mac os, etc) and fully compliant with the latest DDS-RTPS revision.
