Product Category	Distributed-Data
Product/Service Description	MilDDS is a product originating from MilSOFT's specialty in system integration and software development. MilSOFT has been a pioneer DDS vendor adopting the initial data_distribution_service_ddb standard in 2004. Today MilDDS is a proven technology and has been backbone to a wide variety of projects since then. MilDDS can be deployed on various platforms ranging from low-footprint devices to cloud systems and it is the key to the integration of complex distributed systems deployed on wide area. Some of the major projects integrated via MilDDS include, but are not limited to: Combat Management System, Tactical Data Link Processor, Simulation System, Coastal Surveillance and Image Exploitation projects. Major system integration companies including Aselsan, Roketsan and Havelsan rely on MilDDS as well. MilDDS reduces modeling, development, integration, testing and maintenance costs, it also ships a rich set of powerful tools boosting the users' speed during these phases. With MilDDS, MilSOFT also offers to share her specialty both in DDS middleware and her know-how regarding large-scale distributed systems with her customers.
