

Proof of Concept Software

Return to Glossary

Proof of Concept Software is a verification methodology implemented in the initial stage of the product development lifecycle. The purpose of the proof of concept is to test the validity of the software idea - it's all about proving that the proposed system, application, or product can work in real life before you begin development.

Source: <https://www.netguru.com/blog/proof-of-concept-in-software-development>

From:

<https://www.omgwiki.org/dido/> - DIDO Wiki

Permanent link:

https://www.omgwiki.org/dido/doku.php?id=dido:public:ra:xapend:xapend.a_glossary:p:proof_or_concept

Last update: 2022/05/17 16:28

